ABOUT US

Stockton Chiropractic Clinic is a friendly, busy and growing multidisciplinary practice. We are excited about developing further, built on a shared vision and passion for evidence-based, collaborative and relational practice.

For us, evidence-based means grounding practice on the three pillars of scientific research, clinical experience and patient expectations/values. Measuring outcomes, review and evaluation are integral to the process of patient management.

Being collaborative, we work in a multidisciplinary way and seek out expertise and specialisms both internally and externally that serve the needs of patients. Exploring and expanding management options and pathways of care to achieve even better outcomes for our patients are a key priority.

Relational practice for us means investigating the therapeutic relationship. Generally agreed as vitally important to successful outcomes, the therapeutic relationship seems remarkably little understood. Our ambition is to unpack the therapeutic relationship to better use ourselves as practitioners in service of our patients and make a contribution to the development of understanding in this sphere of healthcare.

Please call Kerri Stone, Clinic Director for an informal chat in the first instance on 01642 633888 or 07809 212278.
