

London Chiropractic Associate Vacancy

Established 32 years ago and based in Northwest London, SpineLab is a leading progressively thinking chiropractic centre whose aim is to get sick people well and keep them that way.

If you are a registered chiropractor, passionate about caring for people, growing not just professionally but personally too, then there's a unique opportunity waiting for you with us.

The position will suit experienced chiropractors and graduates.

On offer to the successful candidate is the opportunity to build your own patient base, a percentage-based bonus scheme, a structured career progression with full team support, 121 mentoring and training particularly in mastering functional neurology, muscle testing, paediatrics, SOT and craniopathy. For new graduates, our principal is a PRT Trainer too.

The clinic is in Edgware 15 mins from St Pancras, on the Thameslink. So we are within easy reach of our great capital. Edgware itself is on the northwest edge of London with affordable accommodation, great schools nearby and benefits from being close to the wonderful attractions of London and also moments away from green belt countryside.
