

FICS/RCC ICSC LOWER EXTREMITY SEMINAR

5th – 6th October 2024 – Oxford, UK

Information for students

We would like to bring to your attention important notice released by the UK General Chiropractic Council \(GCC\) in July 2023 concerning student chiropractors.

To practice as a chiropractor in the UK, it is a legal requirement to be registered with the GCC and to have professional indemnity insurance. While students are covered by their university's insurance when conducting training within the university premises, this coverage does not extend to activities outside the university setting. Additionally, students are not covered for using techniques they may have learned elsewhere while practising within the university. In light of the above, and at the request of UK universities, FICS and RCC have decided not to provide practical (hands-on) training for students at our events.

However, please be assured that students can still register for the ICSC e-learning program. After graduation and GCC registration, students can complete the hands-on portion of the ICSC to fulfil the necessary training requirements for ICSC certification.
